

H&E Equipment Services to Acquire Texas-Based Construction Equipment Rental Company, We-Rent-It

January 8, 2019

BATON ROUGE, La.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jan. 8, 2019-- H&E Equipment Services, Inc. (NASDAQ: HEES) today announced its entry into a definitive agreement to acquire We-Rent-It (WRI), a non-residential construction-focused equipment rental company with six branches serving the growing central Texas market. Under the terms of the agreement, H&E is expected to pay approximately $100 million in cash for WRI, subject to customary adjustments. The transaction is expected to close in the first quarter of 2019 and is subject to customary closing conditions including Hart-Scott-Rodino Act clearance.

Brad Barber, H&E's Chief Executive Officer and President, said, "We are executing on our stated growth strategy by announcing a definitive agreement to acquire WRI, which we believe is similar in terms of solid operational and financial performance to our two previous acquisitions in 2018. The addition of WRI's six branches will significantly expand our presence in the vibrant central Texas markets of Austin, Bryan/College Station, and San Antonio metro areas. As of November 30, 2018, WRI generated revenues of approximately $35.6 million for the last twelve months and its fleet size was $75.9 million, based on original equipment cost. WRI is a well-run and respected rental operator with longstanding customer relationships and we look forward to their employees joining the H&E family."

About H&E Equipment Services, Inc.

Forward-Looking Statements

Statements contained in this press release that are not historical facts, including statements about H&E's beliefs and expectations, are "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the federal securities laws. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements about our beliefs and expectations are forward-looking statements. Statements containing the words "may", "could", "would", "should", "believe", "expect", "anticipate", "plan", "estimate", "target", "project", "intend", "foresee" and similar expressions constitute forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks and uncertainties, which could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement. Such factors include, but are not limited to, the following: (1) the risk that any savings and synergies anticipated from the acquisition are not realized or take longer than anticipated to be realized; (2) the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstances that could give rise to the termination of the purchase agreement, the failure of the closing conditions included in the purchase agreement to be satisfied (or any material delay in satisfying such conditions), or any other failure to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby; (3) the risk of unsuccessful integration of H&E's and WRI's businesses, or that such integration will be materially delayed or will be more costly or difficult than anticipated; (4) the amount of the costs, fees, expenses and charges related to the acquisition; (5) the ability to obtain required governmental approvals of the proposed merger, including approval under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976; (6) any additional costs related to the acquisition or the other transactions contemplated thereby as a result of unexpected factors or events; (7) any negative effects of this announcement or the consummation of the acquisition on H&E's or WRI's supplier, customer or other business relationships or the market price of H&E's common stock or other securities; (8) the diversion of management time on transaction-related issues; (9) other business effects, including the effects of general industry, market, economic, political or regulatory conditions, future exchange or interest rates or changes in tax laws, regulations, rates and policies, including the uncertainty regarding rules and regulations with respect to the foregoing that may be affected by the United States Congress and Trump administration; (10) the expected business outlook, anticipated financial and operating results of H&E generally; and (11) other factors discussed in our public filings, including the risk factors included in H&E's most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K. Investors, potential investors and other readers are urged to consider these factors carefully in evaluating the forward-looking statements and are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward-looking statements. These statements are based on the current beliefs and assumptions of H&E's and, as applicable, WRI's management, which in turn are based on currently available information and important, underlying assumptions. Except as required by applicable law, including the securities laws of the United States and the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission, H&E is under no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements after this press release, whether as a result of any new information, future events or otherwise. Although H&E and WRI believe that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, they cannot guarantee future results or performance, including the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the purchase agreement or any anticipated effects of the acquisition.
