- Dollar utilization of 38.6% compared to 40.6% in the second quarter of 2023 and 37.0% in the first quarter of 2024.
- Average rental fleet age on June 30, 2024, was 40.0 months compared to an industry average age of 48.1 months.
- Paid regular quarterly cash dividend of $0.275 per share of common stock.

Reviewing the Company's second quarter performance, Brad Barber, chief executive officer of H&E noted, "Rental revenues increased 6.5% compared to the year-ago quarter, with the increase led primarily by the ongoing expansion of our branch network. A total of 23 new locations, including acquisitions, were opened over the last twelve months ending June 30, 2024, providing important access to new markets with expanding opportunities. Also, we received support from rental rates, which improved 1.9% compared to the year-ago level. On a sequential quarterly basis, rental rates in the second quarter declined 0.1%. The improvement in revenues was partially offset by lower average physical utilization, which closed the quarter at 66.4%, or a decline of 290 basis points compared to the year-ago result. Average physical utilization in the second quarter recorded a sequential quarterly improvement of 280 basis points. Finally, we closed the quarter with an original equipment cost (OEC) of $2.9 billion, a 10.7% increase from the year-ago quarter, including a gross fleet investment of $122.1 million in the second quarter and $196.5 million through the first six months of 2024. Our 2024 expected gross fleet expenditures remain in a range of $350 million to $400 million."

Mr. Barber described the Company's sustained focus on expansion into key U.S. markets, stating, "We opened six new branch locations during the second quarter that enhance our presence in the Southeast, Gulf Coast and Mid-Atlantic regions of the U.S., representing attractive geographies with increasing construction activity and excellent long-term potential. Also, the completion of our latest acquisition in May 2024 resulted in the addition of four branches in northern and central Montana, increasing our presence in that state to six locations while maximizing our exposure to a diverse set of project opportunities. This long-term strategic commitment to expanding our market presence provides greater scale and advantageously positions the Company for future opportunities and improved financial performance. We concluded the second quarter of 2024 with 149 branches across 31 states, representing growth of approximately 45% over the last 36 months ending June 30, 2024."

Commenting on the outlook for the equipment rental industry, Mr. Barber said, "We reiterate our view of a more moderate level of spending and project starts as the construction industry continues to transition to a lower level of activity compared to levels in 2022 and 2023. Higher project financing costs and more stringent lending standards have led to curtailed spending, especially among smaller contractors. Conversely, we are encouraged by the continued growth in mega projects and increased infrastructure project funding. H&E's participation in these projects continues to rise as the Company fully leverages its increased scale in the U.S. Mega projects are a meaningful growth opportunity for H&E and our industry, and given their size and long duration, they provide a more stable base of demand in support of key industry fundamentals."

Adjusted EBITDA

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This press release contains certain non-GAAP (generally accepted accounting principles) measures (EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA Margin, and the disaggregation of equipment rental revenues and cost of sales numbers) detailed below. EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are non-GAAP measures as defined under the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). We define Adjusted EBITDA for the periods presented as EBITDA adjusted for non-cash stock-based compensation expense. Adjusted EBITDA Margin is calculated as Adjusted EBITDA divided by total revenues.

We use EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin in our business operations to, among other things, evaluate the performance of our business, develop budgets and measure our performance against those budgets. We also believe that analysts and investors use EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin as supplemental measures to evaluate a company's overall operating performance. However, EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin have material limitations as analytical tools and you should not consider them in isolation, or as substitutes for analysis of our results as reported under GAAP. We consider them useful tools to assist us in evaluating performance because it eliminates items related to components of our capital structure, taxes and non-cash charges. The items that we have eliminated in determining EBITDA for the periods presented are interest expense, income taxes, depreciation of fixed assets (which includes rental equipment and property and equipment) and amortization of intangible assets. For Adjusted EBITDA, we eliminate non-cash items such as noncash stock-based compensation expense and any other non-recurring items described above applicable to the particular period. However, some of these eliminated items are necessary to our business. For example, (i) interest expense is a necessary element of our costs and ability to generate revenue because we incur a significant amount of interest expense related to our outstanding indebtedness; (ii) payment of income taxes is a necessary element of our costs; (iii) depreciation is a necessary element of our costs and ability to generate revenue because rental equipment is the single largest component of our total assets and we recognize a significant amount of depreciation expense over the estimated useful life of this equipment; and (iv) stock compensation expense while non-cash, is an element of our costs. Any measure that eliminates components of our capital structure and costs associated with carrying significant amounts of fixed assets on our consolidated balance sheet has material limitations as a performance measure. In light of the foregoing limitations, we do not rely solely on EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin as performance measures and also consider our GAAP results. EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin are not measurements of our financial performance or liquidity under GAAP and, accordingly, should not be considered alternatives to net income, operating income or any other measures derived in accordance with GAAP. Because EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin may not be calculated in the same manner by all companies, these measures may not be comparable to other similarly titled measures used by other companies.

We have presented in a supplemental schedule the disaggregation of our equipment rental revenues to provide further detail in evaluating the period over period performance of our rental business relative to equipment rental gross profit and equipment rental gross margin and believe these non-GAAP measures may be useful to investors for this reason. However, you should not consider this in isolation, or as substitutes for analysis of our results as reported under GAAP.

Reconciliations of these non-GAAP financial measures to the most directly comparable GAAP financial measures can be found in the financial tables accompanying this earnings release.
